Through analysis of feedback from our dealer network and the desire to be the premium brand in the industry, Auto Crane is continually working to improve our products and facilitate simpler, more effective installations.

On the Titan 38, 11' Titan Connect™ Body, effective immediately, Auto Crane will no longer offer chassis-specific fuel filler brackets. A generic fuel filler bracket will be included in the body ship kits. This will require the upfitter to match the hole pattern on the provided bracket with the specific chassis.

Thank you for your continued business. We remain dedicated to serving our dealer network for the mutual benefit of our shared customers and genuinely appreciate your dedication to the Auto Crane brand. Please contact us should you have any questions concerning this bulletin.

Respectfully,

Brian Welborn
Product Manager
